LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES .- Mar. 10, 1879. For the Middle States clear or partly cloudy and warmer weather, southerly to westerly winds, and slight changes in barometer.

The Fisheries.-The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says:

"No regular supplies of fish have yet arrived at the upper Potomac fish wharves. United States Fish Commissioner Baird and Virginia State Fish Commissioner McDonald both concur in the view that there is no immediate prospect of such measures by Congress and the States of Maryland and Virginia as is needed to protect the fisheries upon the Potomac from being pote-oned by gas weste, &c., and give a fair chance to the shad planting which has been carried on in the Potomac by the United States Commis-sion. Gas Superintendent Roxbury, at Alexandria, reported last April a plan to prevent the escape of gas house waste into the river, but no action has yet been taken upon it. Congress appropriated $45,000 to furnish the fish commission with a fish hatching steamer. The steamer to be built will accommodate all the hatching to be built will accommodate all the hatching machinery and the men to attend it. It will not be ready by the shad hatching season, but it is expected that the cod hatching which has been carried on successfully at Gloucester, Mass, the past winter, will profit by it. Prof. Baird's purpose is to bring next winter twenty millions or more of artificially hatched cod southward and place them in the waters at the mouth of Chesspeake bay. Stray specimens of the fish have been caught all along the coast as far south as Virginia. Prof. Baird contemplates a series of cod lisheries much faither south than any of cod asheries much farther south than any now exist, and will make the first experiment in Chesspeake bay. Should the experiment suc-ced, the Newfoundland cod fisheries will not be so important as they are now."

The first pair of shad of the season were received here yesterday, from Captain Jerry Robb, sent as a present to a leading physician.

Confession.-It is reported at Warrenton that John Williams, the alleged murderer of Mr. Howard Holtzelaw, has made a confession to some fellow prisoners, acknowledging his participation in the murder. He asserts that he did not fire the fatal shot, but stood behind agother man named John Kenney, who did fire it. They afterwards divided the spoils. The coolersion is, it is alleged, being suppresscd, but, be that so it may, Kenney has been arrested and lodged in jail. Stenes at a Walking Match. New York, March 11 .- At a quarter past 10 New York, March 11.—At a quarter past 10 c'cleck this merning Romell had completed 52 miles, O'Leary 47, Harriman 45, and Ennis 42 miles, in the great international walking match at Gilmore's Garden. A few minutes after the start of the pedestrians the outside mob, made frantic by the cheering inside, charged on the closed doors of the Madison avenue entrance with such force that in a moment the outer doors with such force that in a moment the outer doors were burst from their hinges and crushed in-ward. Rushing through the lobby, the dense mass of human beings was knocked against the inner barrier with such force that it shook and cracked. Timbers were hastily placed against it from the inside and men planted themselves firmly against it in a vain effort to oppose the force on the opposite side. One charge, another and still another from the outside, and with a crash the frail partition was torn from its fasten-ings and burst in. The two policemen at the entrance could do nothing toward stemming the torrent, and were being everpowered, when from a distant part of the garden Captain Williams and a squad of a dezin men from the 29th precinct rushed to the rescue. For a moment the crowd held their own, but the terrible blows of the clubs, raised without mercy on heads and libbt, sent as a present to a leading physician.
